Hi there!

My name is Overilaye, popularly known as Overi. I am a Social Media Content Creator.

In 2016, I thought it was wise to give Social media a try and yes, I became super interested and decided to learn how to do Social media the right way, leveraging on it to grow my Personal Brand and my Business.

As I grew to love the space, I thought it would be nice to share what I know with individuals who might be finding it difficult to do social media, so I started creating DIY tips and tricks. My goal is to help you do Social media easily, so you can cut costs, grow your influence and also grow your income invariably.
